“ To the family, sorry for your loss... It's been a long time since Art and I worked together in his early Navy days of the 80's in Italy floating around the Mediterranean. Those were good times. I didn't realize you had stayed in and retired, as did I.

“ I offer my condolences to the family of Art Phillips and all family connected. I did not know him long nor did I know him well, but he was loved by many. We were family no matter how that came to be. I share the one time we all came together as family for fun in the sun. Rest well Art, God has you now and he will continue to watch over your family.
