“ Chad was in one of my classes when I student taught. He had an adventurous nature to him and loved the outdoors. Whenever I saw him, he would search me out and strike up a conversation. I enjoyed hearing about his kids and his latest endeavor.

He was a huge supporter of CASA and loved watching his son participate in baseball early on. He couldn't wait for the season to start.

He loved his family and cared deeply about others. I'm glad I had the opportunity to have him in class all those years ago. I know his death is a huge loss to all of us who knew him, especially his family.

My sympathies to his family.
