“ Ed lived a happy life with Ann in a place he loved. He had a heart of gold. He loved to talk, and I am sure that is what Ann and we all will miss the most. He is in a much better place with no more suffering and we pray that God will watch over him and the family in this time of sadness in having to say goodbye for now.

“ Dad had a good heart. He was a good athlete at swimming, a good worker at Budd's, and a good husband to Annie. May the Lord's promise of eternal life lie with him. May the strength of our faith, be the wings that will lift him up. May the Lord be there for us as well as we mourn Ed. He was a good man, a tough man with a big heart. He had to prove himself a thousand times over at work. He grew strong, gruff. But beneath the gruffness was a heart of gold.
