“ Wendel, Marcel and I joined the Army in 1956. Wendel and I shipped out to Germany while Marcel went to Hawaii. We came back and was discharged in 1959. I had a car an he had some female connections so I got a blind date that I married and that lasted 62 years. Sadly we never got together over the years.

“ *Wow. This is surprising to find out. I'm sadden by the loss of my friend. My great Uncle Marcel Cunningham was his best friend, since childhood. That's how we met. I love Veterans and I use to go clean his house, keep him company, or drive him to Traverse City, to Sam's Club, or the doctor. The last time we spoke, was the Friday before he passed. I've been calling his phone after they transferred him out of the hospital. I finally just found out the news. He was ornery, but he was my friend. We always could banter together. I'm sorry for his loss and for your families loss. My Uncle will miss his very good friend. The entered the military together and their serial numbers were right next to each other. RIP Wendall. “ My favorite memories are the smile on Uncle Wendel's face þóΓäóτÑ |»τ᠑ τÄ .
He is flying high in the sky or maybe he's riding on some cool trains
. The last time I went to see him we watched a video about several trains ; I looked over at him and he had fallen asleep in his chair ; but I finished watching it because he was pretty excited about that.
My prayers , love and hugs go out to the rest of my family .

“ We'
re going to miss Grandpa and his crazy voice to text text messages.
I'
m sorry my son won'
t be able to get a hay ride from his great grandpa, they were always the best growing up! I will always remember Grandpa on the back of that tractor with a big smile on his face! He was a kind and generous man who will be missed.

“ My heart is feeling a terrible loss. I treasured our conversations. So many precious memories and good laughs through the years. I remember the day I met you, you were driving your truck and stopped in and got a coffee. Mom walked in and you said who is that Lady? I said my Mom. Your eyes lit up and you asked me if she might go out with you. I asked her and boy oh boy did you two hit it off. I still chuckle to myself when I remember your expression. How very sad I feel at loosing my Dad. þóτ᠑ τ᠑τó I know you are with her again. R.I.P
